

Dr. William Weiss is a Professor of Dairy Cattle Nutrition in the Department of Animal Sciences at OARDC. He has been on the faculty of OSU since 1989 with a joint research and extension appointment. His main research areas are: 1. Factors affecting manure and nutrient excretion (especially N) by dairy cows 2) Relationships between minerals and vitamins and health of dairy cows; 3) Effect of diet variability on productivity of dairy cows and profitability of dairy farms.